

Unlimited access to your world

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

2018, the definitive year for Digital Identities!

Enabling secure and universal support of secure elements for logical access, and digitally signing documents and transactions.

Arnhem, December 22nd 2017 – AET announces the launch of the next generation of SafeSign Identity Client version 3.5

AET Europe, the leading vendor of solutions in the area of strong digital identities, is announcing the launch of the new generation of their leading product SafeSign Identity Client, version 3.5. With this launch, the company reinforces its position in the market as the front-runner of solutions enabling secure elements for desktop applications.

“2018 will be a definitive year in the areas of cyber security, privacy and compliance. Worldwide multiple organizations are working on procedures and legislations enforcing those elements.”, says SafeSign product manager, Carlos Serratos. “The need for strong digital identities in different areas of the business, in private and public sectors, is continuously increasing”.

AET Europe has been producing solutions for strong digital identities and Secure Elements since 1998. With millions of customers worldwide, SafeSign IC is the only solution in the market with universal support for all tokens featuring the certified SafeSign PKI applet; used by hundreds of devices from all major hardware manufacturers.

The new release of SafeSign IC is updated to support the latest cutting edge Apple architecture for MacOS, provides enhanced stability for all PCKS #11 native application (e.g. Firefox), and has a broad application and OS service support with native interfaces (CTK, SCE, etc.) and the generic PCKS #11 interface.

The version for MacOS High Sierra is available as of today, with the support for Windows and Linux coming by the end of January.

To learn more about SafeSign IC, digital identities, or to book a meeting with us, contact us at info@aeteurope.com, or visit the website at www.aeteurope.com

About AET Europe B.V.

AET Europe is a global leader in the area of digital security solutions. Founded in 1998. We are specialized in creating secure solutions in identification, authentication, digital signing, consent and management of credentials.